“Protecting your Intellectual Property”

SPEAKER: Veronica Kayne, Director, Office of Technology Transfer

DATE: Friday, September 20, from 11 am to 12 pm

LOCATION: Engineering Building, Room 4801

ABSTRACT

Every entrepreneur needs to know how to legally protect his intellectual property – but every entrepreneur also needs to understand when that protection is worth its costs and the constraints that come with it. Ms. Kayne will address these issues, the role that intellectual property plays in the development, growth and sale of a business, and the most common mistakes entrepreneurs and inventors make as they work to grow a company quickly and inexpensively.

SPEAKER INFORMATION

Veronica Kayne is the Director of George Mason’s Office of Technology Transfer and an officer of George Mason Research Foundation, which owns and licenses Mason-developed IP. Before joining Mason, Veronica spent more than twenty years as a litigator in Washington, DC. She spent much of her career in private practice, but served as Assistant Director of the Federal Trade Commission, where she focused on antitrust and intellectual property litigation.
